Dine around the world in Leicester city centre

Whatever cuisine you're craving you won't need to travel too far with the world on your doorstep
in the city centre

Whether you're looking for a special date night venue, somewhere to take the family, a quiet spot for yourself or to catch up with friends, a business lunch, or a lively atmosphere for a special celebration, Leicester's restaurant scene is alive with options.

In St Martin's Square you'll find a thriving food & drink scene in the middle of Leicester's Old Town. Independents and household names sit side by side, with Thai tapas favourites Giggling Squid and independent sourdough pizza locals, PAI, both at the heart of the Square. For burger fans, make sure you get a date with Crafty in your diary. Since their opening in 2015 Crafty has become the city's go to burger spot, with their handcrafted burgers, pimped fries and craft beers scoring highly on any Leicester's must visit list.

For a trip to South America, Sonrisa offers a lively taste of Buenos Aires. Enjoy delectable seafood, steaks and vegetarian cuisine, with a selection of Argentinean entrees and small plates.

Whether visiting for a lingering lunch, or staying late into the night, you can enjoy the tastes, sights and sounds of Sonrisa with their beautifully crafted cocktail menu or a glass of perfectly matched Argentinian Malbec.

Staying in South America but with a more casual vibe, Bodega offers a neighbourhood Cantina feel with South American inspired home cooked food & handcrafted cocktails. From their signature nachos and street food options to Brazilian Xim Xim and Peruvian Ceviche, the menu is a journey for your tastebuds.

Moving into Europe and Leicester is home to fine Italian dining, with family led restaurants bringing an authentic taste of Italy to the city centre. Concealed behind a discreet hidden door you'll find Casa Romana, which has been delighting diners with their authentic Italian cooking and traditions since the 1980s. Choose from their daily fresh fish selection, authentic pasta dishes or opt for one of their Venetian specials. Along Halford Street you'll find Café Roma, the family run trattoria style Italian, which has been delighting diners since 1996.

Pizza lovers will delight in the range of doughs on offer in the city. On Belvoir Street Maurizio's offers a truly authentic approach with his Neopolitan pizza and homemade pasta, whilst you only need to take a few steps around the corner to Dough What, crafting slices on King Street. At the centre of St Martin's Square you can visit PAI, with their sourdough bases and fusion toppings, whilst at Highcross you can grab a table at Pizza Punks. The growing northern chain is proving a hit with their San Franciscan pizza bases, tasty cocktails and punked interior.

Dive into Eastern flavours in the city centre with a mix of well-known chains and quirky independents. Highcross Shopping Centre is home to Wagamama and Yo Sushi, great for a quick bite before the cinema or for a post-shopping treat. Elsewhere in the city centre, sushi lovers can visit Bonzai Sushi Bar and Wakaze for hand rolled sushi, Bento boxes and rice bowls.

Make a date with the family

If you're dining out as a family there are countless venues that can cater for you and your little ones. Peter Pizzeria offers a relaxed dining experience in cool surroundings, with wall art, foosball and entertainment for the kids. Or pop to Cosy Club where you can rest assured that the children will be entertained with colouring and games alongside an extensive kids' menu, whilst you can settle down and enjoy your meal and cocktails. For youngsters with adventurous tastebuds a trip to Pho offers a children's menu with mini versions of their healthy Vietnamese dishes, such as Wok Fried Noodles, Chicken Ca-ri and Mini Pho.

A reason to celebrate

A new job, graduation, engagement or family event, whatever the occasion is you want to make sure you pick the right venue to celebrate

Knight & Garter offers a fresh, seasonal British menu in their beautifully designed restaurant behind the secret door in the bar. As the bar area comes alive in the evening you can enjoy cocktails after dinner with a DJ playing on Friday and Saturday evenings. At the centre of the Old Town, The Case celebrates the best of British in their independent restaurant situated in a converted luggage factory. They also offer the The Case Champagne Bar downstairs, which is perfect for pre-dinner celebratory drinks.

Short break stays

If you're visiting Leicester for a mini break then you're in luck with the range of wonderful city centre hotels, from apart-hotels to luxury suites you'll find it all in the heart of the city

Both The Gresham and Novotel are home to fantastic independent restaurants, which offer you a delicious opportunity to enjoy some local cuisine during your stay. At Black Iron Social at The Gresham you can enjoy seasonal small plates, steaks and beautifully crafted cocktails in the hotel's downstairs bar and restaurant space. Novotel is home to NineB Restaurant & Bar, named after the city's Roman roots and inspired by the land it sits on, known archaeologically as 'IXb'. The restaurant offers all day dining options including salads, steaks, charcuterie sharing boards and more.

For an escape outside of the city centre, book in your visit to Winstanley House. This beautiful Grade II listed hotel and venue is set amid leafy parkland just 10 minutes' drive from the city. Their in-house restaurant, Black Iron (sister restaurant to Black Iron Social), is a modern British steakhouse and bar, celebrating the best of local produce with an award-winning afternoon tea on offer as well.

A business date

Whether you're entertaining a client or catching up with your boss, choosing the right destination for a business lunch can be vital

San Carlo has been a popular destination in Leicester's dining scene for over 20 years. Offering classic Italian dishes alongside fresh seafood and steaks it's a popular spot for both lunch and dinner. Across into the Old Town, Middleton's Steakhouse & Grill is located in the iconic former banking building and offers an excellent fixed price lunch menu, as well as their main menu of prime cuts of meat, grills and fresh fish.

Student Spotlight

Many of the restaurants across the city cater for the vast student population, but where are the best places you should check out?

Tuck into Icelandic style beer-soaked hot dogs at Bunk on Granby Street and kick start your evening with their fun cocktail menu. Similar vibes can be found at Red's True BBQ at BrewDog, where you'll find special deals throughout the week including bottomless wings (or cauliflower wings), 2 for 1 vegan meal deals and more.

Tuck into a curry

Leicester was recently ranked 2nd in the entire world for the most Indian restaurants per capita in the city*

Of course, curry is a general term for the vast choice of Indian and South Asian cuisine from fine dining to street food, and you'll find some of the UK's most delicious options here on your doorstep.

For a special occasion, enjoy a touch of fine dining at Tandem in St Peter's Square. They offer a private Chef's table in sumptuous surroundings inspired by Goan and Portuguese influences, or visit the Cultural Quarter to enjoy a meal and top hospitality at the multi-award winning Chutney Ivy. Popular high-end Indian restaurant, Mem Saab, has also re-opened in their original home on Vaughan Way, offering wonderful Chef's Special dishes such as South Indian Seafood Biryani and Monkfish Moilee. These, alongside, the highly anticipated opening of the opulent and beautifully designed, Varanasi, bring a new dimension to Leicester's traditional curry scene.

There are also numerous restaurants offering specialist menus and traditional cooking techniques.

Kayal in the city centre specialises in Kerala backwater cuisine, and no matter which of their South Indian dishes you decide to order, make sure you try one of their famous dosas.

For a stylish modern approach to Indian dining, head to popular city centre favourites, Tamatanga and Mowgli, both offering menus that are as wonderfully bright as their interiors. Enjoy fresh, homely food at Tamatanga, where they grind their own spices by hand and serve their dishes along with good music and laid back vibes. Mowgli love to showcase how real Indian food should be eaten, at home and on the streets, so you can enjoy healthy dishes, served in tiffins and packed full of fresh bright intense flavours.

Within Mowgli's beautiful interior you'll find what are perhaps the most sought after seats in Leicester. Enjoy a date on their wooden window swing seats and enjoy watching the world pass by in St Martin's Square against Mowgli's twinkling backdrop.

The Golden Mile

Take a step back in time with a visit to Bobby's on Leicester's Golden Mile, Belgrave Road. With its fully vegetarian menu, Bobby's opened its doors for the first time in 1976. Based on the core values of authenticity, affordability, and quality, Bobby's offers top-quality Gujarati cuisine, with a wide-ranging menu that features favourites such as farsan, pau bhaji and chilli paneer, as well as the traditional Gujarati thali.

As you walk along Leicester's Golden Mile there are countless Indian restaurants awaiting you. The area is steeped in history with a number of establishments, who have been serving the area for decades. No trip to Belgrave Road is complete without visiting Sharmilee. Founded in 1973, pop by to pick up some Indian sweets and savouries to take away or grab a table in their fully vegetarian restaurant. Or why not book a table at Feast India, the ultimate Indian experience with six open kitchens offering Indian and Indo-Chinese buffet dining.

Take your time to explore, because nestled amongst the jewellery and saree emporiums, you'll find an array of traditional curry houses alongside the many Indian sweet marts and street food offerings.

For a meal out with the family, a celebration or date night, Leicester's curry scene is unparalleled.

Hidden Gems

Paddy's Marten Inn is an unpretentious looking pub building in Belgrave, but the once traditional Irish pub was bought by Pradip and Amita Mashru back in 1996 and the recipes passed down through generations of the Mashru family have become a Leicester must try. With influences from Africa, South India and North India, their Maharaja Platters have become legendary.

If you're not quite hungry enough for a full meal you can enjoy some grab and go Indian street food. The award-winning Mumbai Sandwich Station has become a go to for their Vada Pav or visit Street Taste Co (on Belgrave Road or their new dine in space on London Road) for their Indian inspired grilled cheese sandwiches and rolled ice cream. You can even enjoy a little Instagram photo opportunity in their bright yellow rickshaw.

Clarendon Park

Centred around the bustling Queens Road, Clarendon Park is home to a wonderful mix of independent venues to meet friends for lunch or enjoy a special evening out

With a variety of different cuisines, you can choose from the finest Neopolitan pizza, authentic Portuguese dishes, tasty tapas, curry and more.

A long-standing favourite on Queens Road, Barceloneta offers a little slice of Spain set against the backdrop of their Mediterranean inspired interior. Enjoy a glass of Sangria with a selection of Spanish tapas dishes or share a delicious seafood paella.

A skip across Europe and a hop across Queens Road will bring you a taste of Portugal at Port & Nata, a brunch and lunch favourite with traditional Portuguese dishes available on weekend evenings. Whatever you do, make sure you leave room for their delectable homemade Pasteis de Nata for dessert.

If you're looking to spice up your evening then you can visit one of Clarendon Park's Indian restaurants. Spice Bazaar on Welford Road has been a regular finalist and winner in the Leicester Curry Awards. As well as your traditional favourites they also offer a number of seafood dishes, with fresh fish supplied from Leicester Market.

Friends Tandoori is a family run business that's been serving in Leicester since the 1980s. Originally based in Belgrave, you can now find them at the heart of Queens Road serving their mouth-watering food, which is inspired by their Punjabi heritage and culture. Just across the road you'll find The Verandah, which specialises in Anglo-Indian dishes and cocktails. Grab a table in the bar and enjoy their popular Kolkatta Rolls and side dishes, washed down with a Jaisalmer Indian craft gin and tonic.

Whilst you're in the area you can sample the Neopolitan delights at Martin Bros Micropizzeria, whose small batch doughs coupled with a carefully considered craft beer menu have become highly sought after. Alongside Halcyon Kitchen's stonebaked pizzas and menu of modern British mains, and The Clarendon's pub grub favourites, they offer casual dining options ideal for friends and family.

Make a date with friends

This isn't one for a flying visit, instead make a day of it as you sample the delights of Queens Road with friends. From one end to the other you can enjoy no less than 11 independent pubs and restaurants within just a few minutes' walk of each other.

West End & Narborough Road

Narborough Road was officially recognised as the most diverse street in England thanks to the twenty-two nationalities represented by its wonderful mix of shopkeepers and restaurateurs

When visiting the area for dinner there's a host of options before you, from fine dining tasting menus to Turkish mangals.

On Braunstone Gate you can enjoy a taste of Japan at Little Tokyo, who have been a popular favourite since 2005. Serving their handmade sushi, ramen, rice bowls and noodles in a cosy environment, enjoy quality, freshly prepared dishes beneath their Japanese lanterns.

Just across the road you'll find Turkish charcoal grill restaurant, Efes Mangal. With their carefully selected menu of traditional shish and kofte charcoal grills and chef specials. Ideal for a group booking they also offer large sharing platters for up to 10 people. Leicester is home to a number of excellent Turkish grill restaurants, but Efes Mangal is one of the few that holds an alcohol licence.

Continue your culinary journey in the West End at Cedars Lebanese Restaurant, serving traditional Lebanese small plates and Arabic mains, or choose vegetarian Indian cuisine at Sardaar.

A truly special part of the city, the West End has restaurants for all price points and all tastes. Allow yourself time to soak up the atmosphere and authentic tastes on offer.

As one of the main routes into Leicester and Leicester Railway Station, London Road has always been a hive of activity

Did you know?

Now, with a spate of new openings, it is fast becoming one of Leicester's most exciting foodie hot spots.

Konak is just one of the many popular Turkish grill restaurants in Leicester and it's not unusual to see a queue of people waiting to dine at the weekend. Their classic menu of traditional favourites is complemented on London Road by Etcí Baba, who offer a modern, high end spin on Turkish cuisine. With a beautiful and neon tinted interior and special non-alcoholic cocktails designed to have you grabbing your camera for an action shot, it's a restaurant destined for Instagram.

Across the road you'll find Mitsuki, specialising in Japanese cuisine with a small but beautifully formed interior. Enjoy freshly prepared sashimi, sushi rolls, ramen, and bao, together with Japanese beer and sake wine. A few steps further up London Road you'll find Saffron Street, bringing a new dimension to Leicester's Indian street food. Served in truly beautiful surroundings, their plates are beautifully presented with your favourite dishes created in reimagined ways but with the same authentic flavours.

Continue your culinary journey at Karamay, where you can discover a new world of Chinese cuisine. When Karamay opened in 2015 they became the first authentic Uyghur restaurant in the UK. Their menu continues to proudly represent Xinjiang (home to Uyghurs), combining the rich and hearty ingredients that are common across Central Asia, the Middle East and China. Treat yourself to a taste of something unique in Leicester.

Sunday lunch

Nothing quite compares to a traditional Sunday roast and you'll be spoilt for choice

Wygston's House stands in Leicester's oldest building, a late 15th-century timber-framed merchant's house in Applegate, and their Sunday lunches are a must try in the city centre. Choose from a trio of roasts or their vegan alternative with all the trimmings served in their beautiful wood panelled dining room. Another historic Sunday stop is The Globe, Leicester's oldest pub dating back to 1720. Offering a classic pub grub menu throughout the week, on Sunday their attention turns to roast dinner with a choice of 3 meats or vegetarian options.

Make a date with your partner

Turn any Sunday into a special date with a roast at Knight & Garter or Black Iron Social. At Knight & Garter their hugely popular roast menu features Roast Porchetta and Sirloin of Beef, plus you can sample their Crustacea Bar, which is available at weekends offering a selection of oysters, dressed crab and prawns. Black Iron Social bring their own personality to Sunday lunch with their Slow Roast Rump prepared with the same detail as their popular steak options, alongside fish and vegan choices and cocktails with a contemporary twist.

If you're venturing out of the city centre then take a stop off at The Old Horse on London Road for a traditional carvery, or head to The Cradock Arms in Clarendon Park. This traditional pub is hugely popular with locals and those from further afield with their Sunday lunch being one of the biggest draws.

Vegan & Vegetarian

With vegetarian and vegan dining now more popular than ever, we have a range of specialist restaurants in the city, as well as those who offer extensive vegan alternative menus

Many of Leicester's restaurants now offer halal so always check ahead with each establishment when booking a table.

Al Fresco Dining

As the weather brightens many of the city's restaurants extend their dining spaces with use of their outdoor space, but where can you grab the best seats to enjoy your meal al fresco?

Head to Highcross Shopping Centre to enjoy a range of al fresco dining options in St Peter's Square, including chain favourites Pizza Express or a Caribbean twist with friends at Turtle Bay. Grabbing lunch out and about? The World Peace Café in the centre of Old Town offers a lovely spot to tuck into their vegetarian menu whilst people watching. Or on a sunny afternoon you can soak up some rays at The Rutland & Derby and enjoy their quality pub food menu up on the popular roof terrace.

As you venture further out of town, why not visit The Marquis Wellington on London Road and grab one of their garden huts, each complete with their own heater. Whilst over in Aylestone, The Black Horse has a very popular beer garden where you can grab a private carriage and enjoy their menu served all day every day.
